What is a question about the past?
What do I already know?

What sources do I choose to answer the question?
What do my sources tell me?

How do I share my findings with others?
How do I apply what I learned to study other questions?

What conclusions can I draw from evidence in my sources?
Why is this important in history?